Excerpt

A Tombstone for Grandpa
by Annie L. Cromer

For many years I wondered why no one marked the grave of my grandfather, Harvey Hevener. This bicentennial year made me ashamed that the father of my mother, Maggie Greathouse, who had partially lost his arm in the Battle of McDowell, Virginia, about the year of 1861 and there after until his death in 1915, wore his boneless forearm in splints and, yet, appreciation for his part in a cause for which he fought, had gone unrecognized by his family.

The excuse of not knowing where his grave was had been used. I know the plot because, when we were children, every spring our mother (Maggie Alice Hevener Greathouse) filled a little wagon with rich soil and flowers and some of us younger ones pulled the load the more than two miles to the Gum Graveyard. Mother planted a bush given by Alec Lambert, afterward known to us as the Lambert bush, on Grandpa's grave. How she must have longed for a real marker. Anyway, this bush survived and always led me to the place. A few years ago the cemetery was cleared of brush and weeds and the ground was plowed. Then I was told, "You don't know where that grave is at all." Last year back came the Lambert bush with its pink, fuzzy flower. I declared, "This is enough, I am going to put a stone there." Harvey and I picked a simple but good one and had it set. Then I had a real sense of satisfaction thinking, "Someone thanks you, Grandpa."

Last Sunday we joined the Shiffletts in the reunion of my mother's sister, Laura's family at Seneca Park. I mentioned my grandfather's monument to Warren and Murrel and right then found what I already knew, "People want to help if given a chance." Money kept coming in to help with the stone and thanks to us for seeing that the work had been done.

Excerpt - I want to list those who contributed toward the monument - Warren and Mary Shifflett, Murrell and Pearl Shifflett, Chester and Dora Shifflett, Lyle and Marie Shifflett, Willis and Fane Janson, Nadine and Kenny Haeslip, Herbert and Lucille Greathouse, Ivan and Ella Greathouse, Hugh and Katie Shiley, Linda Rogers, Bertie Sheets and Corenda Shiley. The stone is more than half paid for by these grandchildren and their families, however, if other of the Hevener families want to donate there is room. The man who set the stone was from Randolph Monuments, Parsons Rd., Atkins, and I noticed the names on two stones he placed at the same time for two brothers, Samuel Hevener and Harvey Hevener. It would be interesting to know who added the extra "e".

Harvey Hevener was injured at the age of twenty and later married Nancy Cassell, who died at the age of 39. Life must have been hard for him and his three sons and three daughters, Samuel, Van Buren, Adam, Laura Shifflett, Maggie Greathouse, and Rebecca Ratliff. His later years were spent with his children. In 1905 he purchased a large family Bible for each of his children at the price of $5 each. This was a very expensive gift at that time.

Memories of the past and looking at old pictures are both sweet and sad. On our trips to the graveyard we always stopped on our way back at the home of Enos and Ann Curry and their son, Wallace. They always had a pan of Fallow water apples that we ate with real relish while we rested. It could get ^{very} warm in the spring time and we were wearing our above the knee home spun wool stockings. Even now I remember those pleasant rest stops at this same farm as I watch Bill and Edith Curry welcome newcomers to our community.

Last Wednesday, our Methodist Women met with Donna Warner who with her husband, "Chief" and daughter, Michele, live on the Frank Curry farm. Bertie Sheets had the program on Faith. The place is so beautiful.

Barb Rankin

Mrs. Maggie Alice Hevener Breathouse, daughter of Harvey and Nancy Cassell Hevener, was born near Hosterman, West Virginia April 2, 1874, and died December 13, 1937, age 63 years, 8 months and 11 days.

Her mother passed on, while she was but a young girl thirteen years of age. Her father died 23 years ago.

Having given her life to the Savior many years ago, she continued to love her church and serve it; her selected church being the Church of the Brethren.

On March 24, 1897 she was married to William C.
Breathouse, of Highland County, Virginia. This couple spent their entire life in Pocahontas County. To this union five sons and five daughters were born. Freddie died in infancy. Those surviving are Mrs. A. E. Sheets and Mrs. W. O. Rose, of Durbin; Mrs. O. N. Cassell, of Cass; Mrs.
H. F. Croner, of Cheat Bridge; Herman and Herbert, of Durbin; Clyde, of Greentank; Katherine and Ivan remain at home. She also leaves two sisters and two brothers: Mrs. C. M. Ratliff, of Morra, Ohio; Mrs.
Laura Shipflett, of Mprenton; Vandoren Hevener, of Tell City, Indiana and Adam Hevener, of Durbin.
One brother, Samuel died four years ago. Fifteen grandchildren and many relatives and friends feel their great loss.

Many friends, pastors and church workers found a welcome in her home. Mother was an active worker in the Primary Department of the Church as long as she was able. She took great interest in the work of the Heavenly Aid Society of which she was a member. She always took us to church while we were tiny, believing that children should be quiet in church as well as elsewhere. Always setting good examples for us to follow wherever she was.

Mother was devoted to her home, her family, her flowers and hand work by which her activeness was expressed. Not until the last two weeks of her life did she give up to inactivity.

although Mother was not strong for several months, no one realized she was so near the end, until she told us she couldn't live much longer but was ready to die, and as she called each member of the family to her bedside, she said, "Prepare to meet your God, so when you come to an hour like this you too will be ready to come, so our family circle will be unbroken in Heaven." On December 10 she suffered a paralytic stroke, and never again spoke.

No words can tell how we miss Mother; she was so kind and considerate; so helpful to all. We cannot realize that she is dead -- but just away. All we can do that living hands could do, but God's will be done.

Her funeral service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. D. J. Barber, assisted by Rev. B. B. Taylor. The Service was beautifully centered around a favorite Scripture; John 14. The Durbin choir sang two requested numbers "Gone Before" and "We are Going Down the Valley," a large group of sad relatives and friends testified to the love and esteem with which she was held. Interment was made in the Bethel Cemetery.
